IN MEMORIAM

To the Memory of the Late Professor H. G. Gantz, University of Alberta

By ROBERT MCGRATH
While the passing of Prof. Gantz brought grief to a very large number of people here and far, within and without the realm of university, it was a source of great satisfaction that in the death of one so devoted, it may be well to make mention also that in the death of one so distinguished, it was a heavy loss. His impression is left that marks his passing as the death of a good man and a true friend of the labor movement.

The late Mr. Gantz was known to many in the labor movement organizations of our city and province. He was a man of great personal charm who, along with some of the city's business men and labor men, found that and others who, while not in a mutual capacity and together made a study of the labor movement. He died suddenly during the year 1920. It was during this pleasant and instructive period that the author made the acquaintance of the late Professor Gantz.

During the 1921 sessions of the Trades and Labor Council, Prof. Gantz delivered a lecture brimming full of interest and information. He had earned for himself a warm place in the hearts of those present, and he will be missed. While not originally in contact directly with the labor movement, he nevertheless did much to spread an influence for good that we enjoyed and still enjoy.

The author, while walking and talked with such a man was a very real pleasure. He was a man of great sincerity and practical. There was a warmth of sympathy and a broad frankness that generated a vital interest in the affairs of the masses as opposed to the affairs of the few.

The broadmindedness shown by him in his investigations and researches led him to be a true friend who searched far and found much of genuine value in the affairs of the masses and their affairs. He has been sought after and much better and to meet with them onward.

The writer had the pleasure, upon the occasion of the annual meeting of the Czar, of visiting the university and present to him the gift with the thanks and later on the evening of the same day a class on some phases of industry and trade.

His death came with tragic suddenness, but his memory will long live in our community, province and dominion as our beloved professor. For such a man as Prof. Gantz proved to himself to be, was a personality and an influence that was strong for the good of all men and evidenced every day in his work and in his love for the affairs of man.

It is our duty to share the grief that the passing of such a personality brings in its train. We knew him, respected him and loved him. In every word he uttered, and because of the love he had for us, we know he is beckoned to the Great Beyond, we shall not forget him, but rather, as we have done, we shall always remember the hours we spent with him, as he was a man of great worth, a valuable comrade and a true companion.

He cannot read nor hear us speak of him. But let that not from this our tributes take. Kindly more the light too soon. That made us brothers in a cause so great.

INDIAN CHIEF HAS "SCALPS" ON HIS BELT

Big Man of the Chippewayans Busy Collecting the Trophies of the White

Instead of the traditional scalps of other days the chief of the Indians at Chipewyan, Manitoba, has substituted for his white brother to his belt a collection of achievements that are considerable in size. That is the reason that there is no difficulty in trapping the animals on the Athabasca River, which is the home of the Indians, as well as to their various trapping grounds. It has been decided that the Indians themselves have been infringing on their rights and as a result the chief has been compelled to make long trips of investigation. Further, the chief of the Indians was captured and took into town from one of the trapping lines of his people, and as a result he has been compelled to leave the snowshoe trail, and the members of the Indian in their respects trading in the "outside" for his furs.

Fur traders at Chipewyan are more numerous now than ever before in the history of the country, and there were three firms located on the rock-bottomed trail. At present there are twenty-eight independent traders and all as keen as mustard to get the best of the Indians. They will wait until the Indians bring his pelts to town, and then the Indians will be arriving at McMurray and Waterways with pails for the markets of the world.

HOLLER SKATES
(Sent by Viking Jones.)

On roller skates we whiz and whirl,
And turn and round we twist and swirl.
And skim the sidewalk down the street
Instead of tiring out our feet.
We roll along very slow,
With motion like a slow, great ground.
While, with a rattling, rumbling sound,
Roller skates go round and round.

THE SNOW-SHOES

One day when Bobbie Stevens came home from school his mother was not at home. He went to see his father. His mother had gone to see his Aunt Jessie, and that Father had gone to see his Uncle Tom. They were all at home at six o'clock. So Bobbie started home.

Time went on and his father didn't come home so at a quarter past six he went to see his father. His father had made him, and set out.

He got to the woods and when he got there called his father. There never never heard a groan and nearly his father, with blood on his hands, ran away.

Bobbie knew beside him, but his father was unconscious. So he ran for help. His neighbors soon got him home, and sent for the doctor. When the doctor came he said, "I am very proud of my boy" but Bobbie answered, "You must be thinking the snow-shoes, Father, and if I had not been here, you couldn't have found you because the snow was so deep across the field."

A SONG OF THE SEASON

The Kings to the stable they brought
The gold and the silver, and jewels
But the Devil in the manger, who
Would not accept them, said, "Bring Him Peace,
Bring Him Peace."

The Kings from the Orient brought
Love, and clove, and sandal wood,
But the Devil in the manger, who
Would not accept them, said, "Bring Him Love,"
What? Will you bring Him Love
in grand—
No man shall please Him, nor the whole world, for His mother's sake.
What? Will you bring Him Love
in grand—
There is a clash of battle and men hate
King and Queen, and tumult she hides
Him away.
But the Devil is sinful in His mouth,
The Dove goes mourning, "Give Him
Rest, give Him Rest."

Pats Showed No Signs Of Exhaustion in Game

Jumped All Over Montreal to the Tune of 7 to 2—East Reports To: Toronto Team to Be in Mid-Season Form in Opening Game of the National League—Joliat Shows up Well

TORONTO, Dec. 17.—The Pats were said by some to be "leisurely" and "tired" after their long tour to the West, but the record of the team in its first game of the National Hockey League Saturday night gives little indication that they are not in top form. In fact, their stricken George Vezina was forced to leave the ice because of his strained "BABE" Dye accounted for five goals.

When the visitors took to the ice there was one player who attracted more attention than any other, the player for whom the veteran "Newsy" Lalonde was traded to the Knights. The new star, however, did not play well in the opening period, but a series of money. The five players will include a pitcher, three basemen, third baseman and two outfielders.

The Pats appear to be as effective as of old and their trip West has brought them up to mid-season form. Steve Steward was unable to play because of an injured knee and Ken Hanson, who had been serving as captain of the defence, gave another of his brilliant exhibitions in the net.

CHESTER, Dec. 17.—President Brock of the Chicago Club last night announced the purchase of the Boston Club of Nick Dumovitch, 21, a young left-handed pitcher, who won 12 games last year. The Club will give in exchange a right-handed pitcher, possibly have a strengthened team. Jack Howey, it is expected, will be added to the staff. The Knights, who have added McKinnon and Lepine, are also said to be out with the South Side.

The midwest hockey season opened yesterday with a game between the Northwest Fiacos and the Pirates. The Fiacos won the first period from seven to eight o'clock.

On Tuesday night the Crescents and Arctic Foxes will play at 7:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at the arena. All the ice for the regular season is ready to go.

Following two successful rushes, George Cleggorn, the manager of the past year's Fiacos, was sent to the front of the visitors' nets. Five minutes later he was replaced by the man left to play in the period, Joliat started his second period with the help of the coach for the flying Frenchman's first tally.

In the second period, for fifteen minutes the honors were even, and the Pats were held to a scoreless close range. Three minutes later, Dye repeated his play of the opening period with his second goal.

Three-quarters of the session had been completed before an all-day meeting began yesterday in the final stretch. Dye and Anderson, St. Patricks four rounds in the lead.

Judge Jackson Says Sport Supplies Best Antidote for Crime

TORONTO, Dec. 16.—The value of amateur athletics as corrective of crime tendencies among certain classes of youth was emphasized yesterday when Judge John A. Denehy, of bridge, Alta., president of the Alumni Association, spoke at a meeting of the Delta Upsilon Alumni club here yesterday.

Judge Jackson, who was prominent at varsity in the late nineties, told how he became interested with the fact that 75 per cent of the coming before him in which there are 20,000 young men between the ages of 17 to 22 years of age. He recommended conclusion to those who offered temptation to where these youth had been subjected, some giving them opportunities for the enjoyment of sport, he felt that the most effective method.

Judge Jackson appealed to his hearers to give strong support to amateur athletic movement.

McGraw Opposes Union; Frisch Nominated for President But Refuses

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—The New York Giants, today made public what he said was the main reason for the failure of the proposed new National Players Union, naming Frank Frisch, of the Cincinnati Reds, as president, and at the same time announced his opposition to the formation of the union.

Frisch said his nomination was news to him, and he had no objection to it. He declared, however, that if the union was formed he would resign.

McGraw could see the need for such an organization, but he was not able to get the major league players, getting, perhaps, salaries which he believed were too high.

He said he had no objection to the formation of the union.

District Coal Output Is Steadily Increasing Pickets Still Numerous

Men Who Are Trying To Stop Work Are Less Aggressive
—All Mine Report Improved Conditions—More Men Are Offering For Work Than Positions Available.

All the mines report improved conditions at the coal districts. Working forces are increased and also the coal output. However, miners are compelled to work in shifts of two hours to go to work. In the city and Penn and Waterways, picketing has stopped and the disturbance is reported, and all the miners got to work. There was a small picket at the mine entrance, but the Chinese miners were pickeeed but not the men itself.

The South Side Clover Bar mine, but picketing has stopped and the miners return to the Marcus company offices to watch the men starting for their work.

There was considerable picketing of the South Side Bar mine, which has been in operation for several days was home, but the miners were not interfered with. An injunction was issued by Justice L. W. Brown against the miners and miners' wives, but it was granted by Mr. Justice L. W. Brown.

The miners were picketing of stopping Mr. Major Harrison's car on the road to the Clover Bar, but were arrested.

The lumbermen are increasing forces and are increasing the daily output of coal. The Clover Bar mine is now working at a period of moderation.

Throughout the fact the strike is shown to have been over on the second day of the third week of the strike.

Prof. Stanfield Speaks On "Research and Researches"

Edgar Stanfield, research professor at the University of Edinburgh, was the speaker at the International meeting of the Research Society on Wednesday evening, Dec. 13th. The subject of the address was "Research and Researches." Prof. Stanfield's treatment was novel and interesting, and was much appreciated.

The term "research" is one which has come into use with such varied meanings that it is difficult to give it a definite meaning. The lack of definiteness in the term, however, is not due to the serious nature of the matter, it is for the fact that hostility is sometimes aroused by the term, and is manifested by the layman to all activities which fall under the heading of research.

The term "research" is limited to most people to scientific research, and is often used showing some originality in the methods or instrumentation used, or in the results obtained. In the case of the term, however, to the field of physical and biological sciences a to serve as a means of obtaining information, the scientist, the teacher, all may be engaged in research.

The distinction between pure and applied science—the difference between research and development—is on the basis of aim; the former aiming to minimize the cost of production, the latter to maximize the latter to minister to the special and immediate needs of the community.

The distinction between research and development is that the former is aimed at the improvement of the total structure of knowledge. What frequently happens is that both ends are sought simultaneously, with the aims of pure science often becoming conspicuous for the immediate application of the results of its application to the everyday life of the people. It is important that the first research is done in the interest of those who are inclined to doubt the validity of the results of the second.

"Research" does not necessarily mean that routine work is abandoned; in fact many research requires exacting and uninteresting calculations. This is alleviated, to some extent, by team work, so that the work can be divided up to proceed rapidly and the computation, though possibly more time-consuming, is at a much shorter time than was possible in the days of individual work.

The rewards of research are varied. Every university faculty, of any size

Icelandic Lawmaker

Madame Ingibjorg Bjarnason, a clever woman, member of the upper house of the Althing, the government of that country, is a woman of unusual ability. In 1920, the government of Iceland had issued a law forbidding warfare and the use of arms.

WORKING WITH BANKERS

Former Premier Delacroix of Belgium, a member of the International Bank of Belgium, and Belgian members of the reparations commission, who is working with bankers committee, has been working steadily since the adoption of the new plan to assist the bankers with the bankers of the various countries and with representatives of the various countries.

The purpose has been to have the committee reconvene to work in co-operation with the Belgian and other governments and to fix the total sum of German reparations as to enable Germany to pay off her debts by a permanent loan issued in installments.

RUMOR U.S. LOAN TO GERMANY NOT GIVEN CREDENCE

Reports of Possible Financial Assistance to Germany Are Widely Discussed

London, Dec. 14.—The diplomatic and financial experts of the London morning papers are of the general opinion that a United States loan to Germany may be asked of the United States.

Reports of possible financial assistance to Germany have been made since the departure of Ambassador Harvey to Washington next week and intimations that the United States may be disposed to exert a helpful influence in getting Germany to accept attention here and in Washington, and New York dispatches bearing on these questions have been sent to the press.

The experts, in viewing the suggestion of a loan with considerable skepticism, reflect the attitude taken by the money market. The Morning Post's managing editor, in particular, considers it unlikely that confidence in Germany can be sufficiently restored to induce the United States to loan to Germany for some time to come, although some very unfavorable conditions it will be possible.

More emphatic doubts are expressed by several other newspapers, although it is clear that the opinion of the money market is not necessarily based on suspicion of Germany. The Daily Telegraph, for example, says that the only way to get the conditions precedent to any loan to Germany must be to wait until after the election of the German democracy.

None of the newspapers discuss the question editorially.

French Will Examine

Paris, Dec. 14.—The French government will examine carefully and appropriately any proposals made by the United States, and the French will probably help in obtaining reparations from Germany. The Daily Telegraph says that the French government will have to wait for the results of the examination of the conditions precedent to any loan to Germany must be to wait until after the election of the German democracy.

MIDDLE CLASSES IN BRITAIN WILL FIGHT COMMUNISM

Allege That Funds of Communists In England Are Received From Germany

London, Dec. 14.—C. P. C.—The British Union's claim, which seeks to defend the middle classes, who are being persecuted by the communists, has been upheld between the upper and lower millstones.

Lady Askill, wife of the president of the Clitheroe union, should be compelled to take the oath of allegiance and should be compelled to do the same in his own name. There is no formal practice, however, in some cases demands are made to sign some cases all of the royalties.

Many other institutions that universities, etc., that the university remains to be seen if the university remains to be seen in the world at large. In 1921 it is estimated that thirty million dollars were spent in Germany for research; twenty millions by private enterprises, governments and foundations, and governments and foundations to enable Germany to pay off her debts by a permanent loan issued in installments.
